

Jr. Web Developer – Austin, TX

Description

vAuto, Inc. is an industry leading innovator and provider of automotive software solutions. Since the company was founded in 2005, vAuto has launched several first-in-industry innovations, including its current site of solutions that deliver a better way to price, appraise and stock pre-owned vehicles.

We are a fast-moving technology company specializing in web application solutions for the Automotive Industry. We are looking for a candidate with a strong web base to work with our expert team.

Responsibilities

This is a full-time position (not a contract job), located in Austin, TX.

- Build interactive web applications
- Work with team to bring innovative concepts to life
- Participate in project planning meetings
- Adhere to software development processes and standards

Requirements

- Bachelor's degree in Computer Science
- Web development and database classes
- Understanding of HTML, css, c-sharp
- Understanding of database fundamentals
- Ability to learn quickly and adapt in dynamic environment
- Keen attention to detail
- Analytical and problem solving skills

Benefits

vAuto, Inc. offers competitive compensation and incentives based upon performance. In addition, we provide a benefits package which reflects our commitment to attracting and retaining quality employees including medical, dental, vision, prescription drug, flex-spending, paid time off (PTO) program, and six paid holidays.

Employment is contingent upon successful completion of background investigation. vAuto, Inc. is an Equal Opportunity Employer.